Plagiarism and Cheating

This includes in-course assessments and projects. A short version of the definition of Plagiarism and Cheating is as follows:

Plagiarism is the act of presenting the ideas or discoveries of another as one's own. To copy sentences, phrases or even striking expressions without acknowledgement in a manner which may deceive the reader as to the source is plagiarism. Where such copying or close paraphrasing has occurred, the mere mention of the source in a bibliography will not be deemed sufficient acknowledgement; in each instance it must be referred specifically to its source. Verbatim quotations must be directly acknowledged, either in inverted commas or by indenting (University of Kent).

Plagiarism may include collusion with another student, or the unacknowledged use of a fellow student's work with or without their knowledge and consent. Similarly the direct copying by a student of their own original writings qualifies as plagiarism if the fact that the work has been or is to be presented elsewhere is not clearly stated.

Cheating is similar to plagiarism, but more serious. Cheating means submitting another student's work, knowledge or ideas to be assessed while pretending that they are your own.

You should consult your supervisor or Course Director if you are in any doubt about what is permissible.

Any attempt to invent or otherwise falsify data is fraudulent scientific practice.

The University takes a very serious view of Examination Offences. Depending upon the nature of the offence, one of a range of penalties, up to expulsion from the University, may be imposed.

DECLARATION BY STUDENT

I have read and understood the definition of plagiarism and cheating given and I declare that this assignment submitted by me during my registration as a student of the Royal Veterinary College is my own work, and that I have acknowledged all results and quotations from the published or unpublished work of other people.

CertAVP Module Enrolment Form

When you enrol with the RVC, a one-off £50 registration fee needs to be paid. Module fees are £699 per module, so for a complete CertAVP you should expect to pay £4,244.

Additional fees may be required if a 2 year enrolment period (per module) needs extending.

You should also budget for registering on CPD courses that support CertAVP module learning outcomes. You will be eligible for a 20% discount on RVC CPD courses, many of which do support a variety of CertAVP module learning outcomes, during your enrolment period.

When enrolling on C Modules, be aware that there is an annual assessment timetable, so enrol before an assessment schedule starts, and not mid way through. Check the module outlines for the timetables or contact certavp@rvc.ac.uk for advice. Also, you are encouraged to be working on your C modules (particularly on case diaries) when you start the AFAVP, and only administratively enrol (pay the £699 fee) in the year you are planning on submitting C module work.

With reference to the 2 year limit on completing a module, only enrol on modules that you know you can complete within that time. You can enrol on just one module at a time, or a few - it is your choice.

These fees are subject to change and are reviewed each year – the listed fees are valid until 31st July 2024.
